

DRB NESDB Travel Award

This travel award is meant to fully support registration, travel, shared housing, and meals at the New England Society for Developmental Biology (NESDB) conference at the Marine Biological Laboratory in Woods Hole from April 3 – 5, 2020 for students who present at the meeting. Students will serve as representatives of the Harvard Developmental and Regenerative (DRB) Program to the larger stem cell and developmental biology community.

This application is open to any registered DRB students (DRB degree candidates and affiliated students from BBS, as well as other HMS/HU graduate programs). Note: if you are not yet registered as an affiliate of the DRB Program, please complete this form prior to submission.

Information for the 2020 NESDB meeting can be found here.

Students can apply an unlimited number of times in their graduate career, but are eligible to receive the conference award a maximum of two times during their tenure in the DRB Program. Priority selection will go to students who are actively engaged in the DRB Program. Students will be notified no later than March 1st, with a formal announcement of the 2020 awards at the Annual DRB Retreat on March 30th.

Please email our DRB CF at mara_jaslo@hms.harvard.edu if you have any questions.

To apply, please upload the following materials to the online form found here:
<https://drb.hms.harvard.edu/nesdb>

1. A brief description (no more than 1 page) of your current research and future career goals. Please tell us how attending the conference furthers your professional goals.
2. Your NESDB abstract.

Applicant Signature: X _____

Ph.D. Advisor Signature: X _____

* By typing your name, you are electronically signing this document and certifying that you are a student in the Developmental and Regenerative Biology graduate program and willing to present an oral or poster presentation of your abstract at the NESDB meeting *